Volume-XIII-No.1 Sept. 2019

Dear Readers,

Students came back to school with the harsh summer still lurking behind but on entering their classrooms they jumped up in joy at the facelift that their classroom and corridors had undergone. The furniture –orange for the little ones and green for the seniors was ergonomically designed, light weight but sturdy and added an aesthetic value to each class.

By the time this editorial reaches you, the swimming pool would be almost ready for children with fixtures and safety features of international standards. The new building is accelerating towards completion and all of us - teachers and children alike keep gazing at it with childlike enthusiasm and merriment in our eyes.

New pedagogical practices in school are constantly aiming to focus on the mental and emotional health of children. Teachers and parents need to work on these together and patiently. For a fractured toe we go to an orthopaedic, for children's health issue we go to a paediatrician, similarly mental and emotional issues need to be addressed. Suitable therapy and intervention by an expert can mend the ruptured mind. Mental health issues should not be brushed under the carpet. There is no shame in wanting intervention for the wellness of your child. Patience and belief in therapy is another requirement. So don't expect allopathic medicines like cure 'Symptom today gone tomorrow'

Training in school and at home must comprise of a healthy mix of children's choice activities combined with less preferred but important skill and value based learning. Everyone enjoys fruits of success which is more easily achieved in activities chosen by you, but the new age requires one to build the ability to face failures.

Inclusivity and respect for diversities and divergences are important in children's grooming. Children need to respect different religions, different languages, different academic capabilities, different body types, different skin colour, different food preferences. One reason for bullying stems from the inability to respect difference.

So in this world of teaching-learning there is a constant need to recentre our focus and goals to help our children become global citizens.

CORE WORKSHOP FOR CPS KATOL ROAD TEACHERS

The role of educators/facilitators is the most challenging in the modern times. The traditional teacher pupil relationship is also seeing a transition. The non-punitive approach in education and the advent of technology has rendered the classrooms learner centred. To address these day to day challenges & equip the teachers with strategies to deal with these changes, Centre Point School Katol Road invited the well-known psychotherapist & counselor of Nagpur Dr. Shishir Palsapure.

In a day long workshop divided in two sessions for the primary and senior teachers. Dr. Shishir gave some helpful insights in understanding children's behaviour. Through the analogy of green zone and red zone behaviour seen in chicken, Dr. Shishir brought to light the affective strategies and skills to enhance cohesiveness & productivity of a group. The three Cs of Cooperation, Communication and Coordination coupled with a friendly, responsible and trustworthy environment that focuses on the outcome are just perfect for a learning environment. The primary teachers had an enthralling role play session where they worked in groups to brainstorm effective classroom management ideas. The senior teachers had an engaging bridge building activity (again in groups) where limited resources were given to build a bridge. Through the activity the teachers learned the incredible lesson of keeping the learners gainfully involved & engaged all the time. This holds the key to get across to the students at the senior level. To conclude, the whole noise of go green to save the environment had a new meaning for each staff members at CPS Katol Road. A clean and green environment is incomplete in the absence of green zone behaviours so beautifully explained by Dr. Shishir Palsapure. The management thanked Dr. Shishir for sparing his valuable time.

CPS, AB CLASS III PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE 'HEROES' THROUGH ITS CONCERT

'Heroism' was celebrated with great fervour in the premises of Centre Point School, Amravati Road Bypass, through a musical extravaganza presented on 3rd of Aug'19. The enthusiastic and spirited performers of class III paid a befitting tribute to the 'Heroes' who inspire and motivate us in an extraordinary manner.

The Executive Director of Centre Point School Group of Schools, Mrs. Mukta Chatterjee Ma'am and Academic Head, Centre Point School International, Mrs B. Anuradha Ma'am graced the occasion with their presence.

The exuberant performers set the stage ablaze with their scintillating acts one after the other, meticulously woven together through the play 'Asli Hero Kaun', enacted by the budding actors of class 3 A. Not only did they enthral the audiences with their acting prowess, but also anchored the entire programme with ease. While on their journey to discover the 'Asli Hero', they took the opportunity to salute various heroes.

Class 3 C chose to sing the laurels for the heroes from our glorious past - Chhatrapati Shivaji and his seven great Maratha warriors. Their valour was exemplary and would continue to inspire us. Soaked in 'veer ras' the melodious singing by the young artists was certainly a treat to the ears. Class 3 E appraised the Champions in the field of sports for their indomitable spirit. The splendid rendition of the song 'Hall of Fame' not only glorified the sports heroes but was an inspiration for the children themselves. 'Self-belief can take you places' was the perfect 'take away' for all. The celebration of heroism can never be complete without saluting the Indian Armed Forces for their gallantry and sacrifices. Drenched in patriotic fervour and dressed in the uniform of the Armed Forces, the little soldiers of class 3B portrayed the Indian Army, Navy and Air Force with perfection.

They regaled the spectators with their agile and elegant dance moves. With a resolve to emulate the heroes, the children of class 3D took to the stage to acknowledge the outstanding acts of fortitude by the little brave hearts who have been the proud recipients of the 'bravery awards'. Showcasing their skills, the confident dancers swept all by their feet. Children often try to emulate their parents, their real 'Heroes'. On this occasion they made the most of this opportunity to show their gratitude towards these unsung heroes, for their efforts and sacrifices.

Last but not the least, 'the hero within' was also lauded and acknowledged. The concert served for them as an opportunity to showcase and hone their skills. With hundred per cent participation, it was ensured that each student gets a chance to discover his or her potential and emerge as a hero.

The audience and the Chief Guests were all praises for the young heroes for putting up a spectacular show.

Our guest of honour, Mrs. Mukta Chatterjee Ma'am lauded the children and the staff for their efforts to make the event a success; she also thanked the parents for their unconditional support. With everyone on a high, there could not have been a better way to conclude the programme than by singing the National Anthem.

FOUNDER'S DAY AT CENTRE POINT SCHOOL KATOL ROAD

Founder's Day was celebrated at Centre Point School Katol Road with much fanfare on 19th Aug'19 in the school Mukhtangan.

The Founder's Day is an important day in the school almanac of Centre Point School as we celebrate the birthday of our Founder Director, Mrs. Aruna Upadhyaya. A doyen in the field of education, Aruna ma'am founded the Mother's Pet Education Society almost four decades ago. Today the Centre Point Group of School is a large, flourishing tree.

Preparations for the Founder's Day got underway almost a month in advance with various inter house competitions scheduled for the D. Day. 19th Aug began with a gift of a hundred saplings from the Forest Dept. as a token of appreciation of the good gesture of donating books and notebooks of CPS Katol Road. Ahaan Shori of class 4 spoke on the significance of Raksh bandhan. The interhouse events began with the Choir competition for class 6 to 8. The theme for the songs was 'Zindagi' and the four houses belted out yester years classic Bollywood favourites by Suresh Wadkar and Kishore Kumar – Zindagi ek safar hai suhana (Green House), Zindagi hasne gaane ke liye hai pal do pal (Red House) Aiye Zindagi, gale laga le (Yellow House) and Zindagi milke bitayenge (Blue House).

The choir competition was followed by the Inter House Junior Dance Competition presented by students of classes 4 and 5. The theme was a fusion of various Indian dance forms. The Green house had a striking fusion of Rajasthan's best known folk dance Kalbelia with the upbeat rhythm of Bihu from Assam. The stage came alive with the Red House juniors fusing the energetic garba and dandiya with the ever green foot tapping, Goan dance.

The Yellow House came up with a power packed fusion of the captivating mudras of Bharatnatyam and the traditional Maharashtrian folk dance, Lavni with its characteristic Gondhal. A blend of the Kalaidoscopic Kathak and the vibrant Bhangra from Punjab, was presented by the Blue House. The most awaited segment of the day was the Inter House Senior Dance Competition. The theme was Western Dance Forms.

The stage was set ablaze with the Green House dancers in their black hoodies displaying their talent in dancing the Hiphop style. The amazing footwork entranced the audience. The Red House came up with a superlative performance of the Jazz that emerged in Brazil built on African American style of dancing. The Yellow House drove home the point that anybody can dance with their Urban Pop, a dance form integrating the community and lifestyle.

The Blue House came up with a scintillating performance of the Contemporary style, which is very popular in the U. S. and Europe. What is amazing about these dances is that they were completely choreographed and designed by the students themselves.

The Green House emerged the winner in the Inter House Choir Competition, while Red House grabbed the top spot in the Inter House Junior Dance Competition and Green House, once again at the top in the Inter House Senior Dance Competition. The judges for the event were Mr. Suraj Amte, a professional dancer and choreographer, Ms. Pooja Hirwade, PG and Alankar Poorna in Bharatnatyam and recipient of scholarships and many awards and Ms. Monica Bhoyar, a Sangeet Visharad and an artist at the All India Radio.

73rd INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATIONS AT CPSWN

A lot of patriotic fervour and enthusiasm marked the celebration of our country's 73rd Independence Day at Centre Point School, Wardhaman Nagar on 15 Aug '19. As the entire school watched with a sense of pride, the programme started with Mrs. Sumathi Venugopalan, the Principal hoisting the National Tricolour followed by the rendering of the National Anthem, both symbols of our national pride.

After the audience had settled down to witness a special programme honouring the day, the compeers for the occasion, Anshul Kamble (School Captain) and Ruchi Bheda (School Vice Captain) reminded everyone of the persistent efforts and ultimate sacrifices undertaken by our freedom fighters to attain independence from foreign rule. Quoting Nelson Mandela, they rightly said that freedom is 'to live in a way that respects and enhances the freedom of others'.

They invited a special group of Class IV and V children who paid a wonderful tribute to our selfless leaders through a touching poem. Later, Jigyasa Bamblani of Class X poured out her thoughts and feelings about the essence of being independent in a thought-provoking and rousing speech. She was followed by a Class IX grader, Divya Jain who reminisced with gratitude about the sacrifices made by our real national heroes and also expressed satisfaction for what we, as the citizens of India, have been able to achieve due to the efforts of former generations. A young and talented poet, Purva Patil of Class VI urged her listeners to ponder on the importance of freedom for youngsters today by rendering a moving poem.

Patriotic sentiments ran high as the entire school joined in singing 'Kabhi na jhukne paaye Hindustan ka jhanda' waving their flags proudly in the air. A well scripted and staged dance drama by senior students depicting the Quit India Movement highlighted the pivotal role played by Gandhiji in the freedom movement as he ignited Indian sentiments with his 'Do or Die Slogan'.

Addressing the gathering, Mrs. Venugopalan enlightened one and all with her inspiring words on the occasion. Beginning on a meditative note, she implored everyone to ponder on the fact that they were not physically present during the hard times of struggle and sacrifices and the suffering endured by our forefathers but they were there that day to act in a responsible way. She also reiterated the need for us to remember that 'freedom and responsibility are two sides of the same coin'. According to Ma'am, freedom must be accompanied by a sense of self awareness which will propel us to make the right choices and cultivate responsible behaviour. Narrating an apt story, she drove home a strong message that we need to be responsible for the outcome of our own actions. The day concluded with the school dispersing to the tune of 'Kadam kadam badhai ja...

Two sonorous voices, Urja Bahadure and Jiya Sajnani also performed admirably and were greeted with big rounds of applause. A fitting finale was a sentimental number by the Music teachers who regaled everyone with their performance.

STRESS BUSTER EXERCISES FOR CPSWN TEACHERS

Dr. Palsapure interacting with the audience

Dr. Shishir Palsapure held on workshop especially for teachers at Centre Point School, Wardhaman Nagar on 25th April '19. He started off with a simple yet effective example - crumpling a 500 rupee note and making everyone realize that even a crumpled note doesn't lose its value. The message was loud and clear - however tired and exhausted life leaves us at the end of the day, we should still learn to value ourselves.

The highly interactive workshop engaged the teachers in a lot of team building activities like tying two persons to each other and leaving it to them to discover various ways in which they could disentangle themselves. It was such an effective way to remind everyone how important it is to keep all their channels of communication open while solving any problems that they faced. Another important issue that Dr. Palsapure discussed at length related to tension and its many side effects. He taught the participants how to compartmentalize their problems, emphasizing it with a very suitable example. On one hand, he poured some ink into a glass of water, thereby discolouring it completely while on the other hand, he put some pebbles in the water, which did not lead to any colour change. He went on to emphasize that that was exactly how one must treat stressful situations i.e. think of them as little pebbles which should not be allowed to jeopardize our existence. The workshop was thoroughly enjoyed by the participants who never noticed how the time flew by. They remarked that they had many takeaways at the end of the day and thanked Dr. Palsapure and the school management for arranging the much needed 'stress buster' for them.

CPS KATOL ROAD RECEIVES BRITISH COUNCIL'S INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL AWARD

Already a three-time recipient of British Council's International School Award, Centre Point School, Katol Road set off a fourth time on its journey in 2018-19 for ISA. On this journey it partnered with Delta Gemunupura M. V. School, Sri Lanka and collaboratively worked not just on the three collaborative projects but most of the Projects stated in the Action Plan. Schools Online provided the scaffolding in the search and selection of this partnership which is now a sustained one. Keeping in mind the partner school, Centre Pointers discussed, debated and mulled over every aspect of the three collaborative projects and finally shortlisted three projects which were embedded in the curriculum and which the link school also found doable. The Action Plan was drafted and then approved & endorsed. The school started working on the seven projects which spanned the whole school and all age groups. Sharing of knowledge, skills and attitudes continued consistently between students of both the schools. The collaborative projects took off with swapping videos, images, emails and information. Work started on both ends and Skype sessions played an important role in the interaction between students of both schools.

As the journey through ISA continued the learning outcomes for students were plenty. A true learning outcome of the collaborative projects was that the knowledge received and the information exchanged led to new ways of thinking, applying and creating new things. An example of this was the Project 'Traditional Indoor & Outdoor Games of India and Sri Lanka' done collaboratively by students of both schools. What is very commendable is that they created a new Board game naming it Elle Belle Ka Chauka. The game was appreciated and also uploaded on YouTube. This is only one of the examples of what the students learnt and created. Technology was used innovatively, information was compiled aesthetically, displays & performances were done impressively. For the non-collaborative projects interesting activities including trips & expert talks were conducted. With the students' initiative & the teachers' guidance, the projects were completed and compiled. The slightly different format of compilation did not act as a deterrent for compiling the E-Dossier of evidence.

The assessors awarded cent percent marks to the projects assessed by them. They assessed the e-dossier as 'a very logically arranged, brilliantly put together dossier'. They commented "The partnership forged by the school during the ISA journey with a school abroad was commendable & noteworthy. Not only the three collaborative projects but also all the other projects are collaborative, taking teaching learning incorporating international dimension, to a higher level". The school is now a recipient of British Council's ISA for 2019-2022. The ISA kite mark which is a key part of the Award is now being used on the school literature, stationery & website. The formal Award ceremony will be held later this year.
